Education: A Community Commitment

College of Education programs are all bound by a commitment to improving the lives of children, adolescents, adults, families and communities. Examples of the commitment include:

Therapeutic Recreation

Each semester, therapeutic recreation students do one-on-one warm water therapy for preschool and secondary age students who have disabilities.

Counseling Programs

Master's students in the counseling and counseling psychology programs spend more than 10,000 hours each semester working with clients in hospitals, community health centers and university counseling centers. The College operates Counseling Psychology Clinics, focused on offering high quality, cost efficient services, in both Stillwater and Tulsa.

K-12 Schools and More

Each year, an average of 255 College of Education students serve roughly 163,993 hours in clinical and field experience in K-12 Schools. In addition, more than 470 students serve over 77,000 hours in field experiences and internships in recreation management, therapeutic recreation, athletic training, teacher education, counseling and counseling psychology and health education and promotion.

CRSTL Center Impacting STEM Education

CRSTL, the Center for Research in STEM Teaching and Learning, provides opportunities for university faculty, pre-service and in-service teachers, school administrators, informal educators and community leaders to improve PK-20 student learning, teacher preparation and teacher professional development in science and mathematics.

Center for Educational Research and Evaluation

The Center for Education Research and Evaluation (CERE) provides methodological expertise in research, evaluation, statistics and psychometrics for schools, as well as the business, industry and government sectors.
