M.S. EDUCATIONAL LEADERSHIP STUDIES

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION,
HEALTH &
AVIATION

FULLY ONLINE PROGRAM BEGINNING FALL 2021

Oklahoma State offers a master's degree with an emphasis in higher education for individuals who desire to concentrate on the study of postsecondary education. The goal of the program is to develop leaders and scholars who lead higher education institutions effectively, possess a broad understanding of postsecondary education, conduct scholarly re-search and contribute to the development of the profession. The coursework offers comprehensive exposure to the complex issues facing higher education today. Students in the higher education and student affairs program focus on issues within the realm of higher education administration and diverse student populations.

THE GOAL OF THE PROGRAM IS TO DEVELOP LEADERS WHO:

- ▷ Balance theory, research and practice in the administration of institutions of higher education
- ▷ Apply theoretical frameworks to address administrative and organizational issues in postsecondary institutions
- ▷ Develop leadership capacities within the administration of higher education
- ▷ Address the trends and needs of higher education organizations and diverse student populations

Students in the program work with academic faculty and affiliated faculty who are employed full-time as student affairs administrators.

For more than 45 years, we have placed our graduates in student affairs positions at colleges and universities across the U.S. Oklahoma State alumni are recognized as some of the most talented student affairs professionals in the country.
