WHAT IS OLLI?

The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) at Oklahoma State University is a member-driven program developed for adults age 50 and better who are interested in enriching their lives by expanding their intellectual experiences. Opportunities include courses, lectures, workshops, travel opportunities and special events. Instructors are qualified individuals from careers in academia, business, the arts and government. There are no tests and no grades; members pursue learning for pure pleasure.

Each of the four OLLI @ OSU locations have a local leadership committee governed by a board of directors elected by the OLLI membership.

All operating costs are funded by membership fees, the Bernard Osher Foundation and Oklahoma State University, with special thanks to the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute and the OSU College of Education, Health and Aviation.

OLLI Membership

You must be an OLLI member to enroll for fall, spring or summer courses. The membership year runs from July 1 to June 30 and includes three sessions: summer (three weeks), fall and spring (6–10 weeks each). Membership dues are paid annually and entitle the holder to participate in courses as well as social, travel and special events, voting, elected committees and course evaluations in all four cities — Stillwater, Tulsa, Oklahoma City and Bartlesville. Membership dues do not include textbooks, supplies, meals or other fees.

International Affairs
Tuesdays, 10a-noon | 2/4 – 3/10

INSTRUCTOR
Meredith Woodruff Garner
CIA Directorate of Operations (retired)

CLASSES HELD AT
Stillwater Public Library
1107 S Duck St

With today’s news focusing so much on Washington, we too often feel out of touch with what’s happening outside the U.S. We’ll look at the week’s top one or two stories in international news and delve into the stories’ backgrounds and the players involved and consider how the events impact our country.
Writing Your Story
The Richness of Everyday Life
Tuesdays, 10a-noon | 2/4 – 3/10

INSTRUCTOR
Margaret Potter
Professor, writer

Recognizing the richness in your daily existence is the beginning of this unique approach to the writing process. Whether your literary goal is to write an account of your experiences or to incorporate them into fiction, this interactive workshop will help you find the story within and give it a life of its own. Some materials will be provided. Students are encouraged to bring their own.

Mahjong
Tuesdays, 10a-noon | 2/4 – 3/10

INSTRUCTOR
Carol Outhier
Stillwater Newcomers Club Mahjong group leader

Mahjong is a game very similar to rummy, but played with engraved tiles instead of paper cards. While there are many versions played around the world, this easy-to-learn form is based on the “Shanghai” version. Players will learn the rules and strategies to build chows, pungs and kongs to win a Mahjong.

The Art of Mindful Living
Tuesdays, 1-3p | 2/4 – 3/10

Dr. Marty H. Heitz
OSU Associate Professor of Philosophy

Examine how meditation and contemplation can help you find peace of mind and contentment of heart, even while living in a world that places little emphasis on the present moment. Readings from various contemplative traditions will be paired with extensive meditative techniques that will be practiced both in and outside class.

Reading Comedy
Thursdays, 1-3p | 2/6 – 3/12

Dr. Jeffrey Walker
OSU Professor of English

CLASSES HELD AT
Stillwater Public Library
1107 S Duck St

IMPORTANT INFO
$30 text fee

For Horace Walpole, the “world is a comedy to those who think, a tragedy to those who feel.” Even if some take comedy less seriously than its generic twin, tragedy, explore comedy with an eye as to how storytellers view life through the comic lens and use it as a mode of representing human experience. The concern will be with comedy as a mode of vision and with the agents of comedy (wit, satire, irony, parody, farce) that implement that vision.

Feb. 18 | Putting First Responders First

Dr. Jill Joyce and Dr. Jay Dawes

Oklahoma State University

Someone breaks into your house, it’s on fire or we’re under attack. Who do we call? We call police officers, firefighters and the military. They selflessly put their lives on the line for us every day, but they could use our help too. Prevalence of overweight and obesity is as high, if not higher, amongst first responders as the general population. Almost half of deaths in the line of duty, for firefighters, are due to heart attack. Researchers at OSU are working to improve not only performance in these populations, but also their health.
Feb. 25 | OSU Center for Sovereign Nations

Elizabeth Mee Payne, Sky Rogers, James Jump

OSU Center for Sovereign Nations

Launched in August 2015, the center promotes understanding, respect and exercise of tribal sovereignty. It also promotes American Indian student success and graduation while increasing partnerships between OSU and the 39 federally recognized tribal nations of Oklahoma. Learn about this collaborative approach connecting tribal nation partners to the students they send to OSU’s campus.

March 3 | Our Children/Our Future

Joe Dorman

CEO, Oklahoma Institute for Child Advocacy

The mission of the Oklahoma Institute for Child Advocacy is to create awareness, take action and support policy to improve the health, safety and well-being of Oklahoma’s children. Joe Dorman addresses the needs of children in the state’s care and those growing up amid poverty, violence, abuse and other situations that put their lives and futures at risk.

March 10 | Redistricting 2021

Andy Moore

Executive Director, Let’s Fix This

People Not Politicians, a nonpartisan organization, wants to take redistricting out of the power of incumbent politicians and put it in the control of a citizen-led, independent redistricting commission, thus ending partisan gerrymandering in Oklahoma. Learn about the commission and the grassroots movement to get this initiative on the ballot.
Artificial Intelligence (AI) is both a futuristic concept and an ever-present reality that inspires great ambiguity as to whether it will, ultimately, be for our good or to our detriment. Filmmakers have posed questions covering the gamut of emotion and thought on the effects of AI. We’ll review a number of films that address the issues.

The culture of India is diverse and rich in ancient traditions, yet regional differences find unity in its heritage of classical dance and music. An important part of everyday life in India, dance shares ideas and stories using expressive gestures set to music. Journey through history, listen to music, enjoy performances and learn basic classical dance movements.
The Dangerous Edge
Literature’s Complex Characters
