Dear reader,

We at The Scholar-Practitioner thank you for accompanying us throughout this 2022. It is you who make it possible for knowledge to be shared and, consequently, to grow.

As you know, our source of inspiration and commitment are the college students who identify themselves within the hidden student populations. So in 2023, we will continue having research-to-practice summaries to promote social justice and honor every college student's journey.

*Special thanks to who contributed a
research summary
in 2022*
