

College of Education, Health, and Aviation Sona System – IRB Compensation Paragraph

Participants will earn course credit for their participation. Many introductory and lower-level College of Education and other courses offer students a small amount of course credit (usually less than 5% of their grade) for participation in the research process. Whether for required credit or extra credit, each course must offer alternatives to research participation for earning credit. For example, in Educational Psychology courses students have the opportunity to earn five “units” of research experience. This requirement may be fulfilled in one of four ways:

- 1) serving as a human participant in current research project(s),
- 2) attending special research events,
- 3) researching and writing 4 page papers on designated research topics, or
- 4) co-creating relevant educational experience with their instructor.

Each hour of participation in a research project as a participant is generally regarded as satisfying one “unit” of the requirement, students completing a half hour will receive 0.5 unit.

Students participating in this study will earn      units of credits as this study will take approximately      minutes to complete.