OSU Curriculum Studies Project Distinguished Lectureship

presents

Dr. William F. Pinar

Alllegories of the Present:
Curriculum Development in a Culture of Narcissism and Presentism

March 2, 2012
4:30-5:30pm
OSU Tulsa, 250 North Hall

An internationally renowned scholar, Dr. Pinar teaches Curriculum Theory at the University of British Columbia as Canada Research Chair. A recipient of the AERA Lifetime Achievement Award, he has founded several influential scholarly journals, conferences, and associations around the globe. Dr. Pinar is also the author and editor of dozens of books, including What is Curriculum Theory? (2011), The Worldliness of a Cosmopolitan Education (2009) & Queer Theory in Education (2009).

Sponsored by the Curriculum Studies Project, The School of Teaching and Curriculum Leadership at OSU, and OSU-Tulsa