RECREATION & SPORT FOR YOUTH AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

Travel dates: May 22-29, 2019

Explore the culture of recreation and sport within the country while gaining insight into how a local hobby has become a nationwide pastime. Students will participate in a community development initiative that will have long term benefits for local youth community members in the Dominican Republic.

 Estimated cost: $4,000

Open to undergraduate, graduate, and non-OSU students

For more info, contact: taryn.price@okstate.edu (186 Colvin Center) or cindy.cario@okstate.edu
RMRT 3010/ RMRT 5010
Recreation & Sport for Youth and Community Development

Must sign up on 1) Banner, 2) EF College Study Tours, and 3) abroad.okstate.edu (more details to follow)

Insurance provided through OSU for $3/day for days traveled

Trip includes: RT airfare, hotel stays, meals, service hours, leadership activities, tourist attractions, transportation, and flexible payment options

This course is designed to help students:
1. Understand the importance of recreation and sport in the developmental process of youth domestically and abroad.
2. Understand different recreation and sport activities professionals can adapt in order to connect with youth community members nationally and internationally.
3. Understand the diverse function of recreation and sport’s role among youth domestically and internationally.
4. Understand the importance of self-reflection of recreation and sport manager’s adherence to community needs.
5. Students will have an opportunity to travel abroad in order to participate in an initiative to empower youth in the Dominican Republic.

Wonderful leadership and community engagement opportunity.

I look forward to meeting you!
Please don’t hesitate to contact me with any questions or concerns -- Dr. Taryn Price

Contact: taryn.price@okstate.edu

Learn more at https://education.okstate.edu/dominican